The Goal

A resilient and adaptable service in the face of network disruptions and high-end digital media can be a real game changer.

The ultimate goal of Jacob Radio is to spread the message of hope and faith throughout the world in a seamless and uninterrupted way.

5centsCDN offers the ideal solution to overcome any challenges that Jacob radio has been struggling with.

» 02

The Problem

Content publishers face an immense challenge in developing high-quality seamless delivery without compromising the quality. Claiming a space among all the digital media giants can be thrilling and risky simultaneously. It is difficult for publishers to develop an infrastructure for delivering high-quality content which is as good as any other leading content. Jacob Radio suffered from a similar issue where they found it difficult to compete with the giants of digital media.

The Challenge

The CEO at Jacob Radio has faced challenges that slowed their growth and the quality was affected as well. As compared to the other leading publishers, they had to struggle to get their users hooked. The ultimate goal of the company was to spread the message of hope and faith throughout the world. Therefore, a clear and seamless service was crucial. They aimed to let people believe that there is a better and brighter future for us all.
